

JOB DESCRIPTION

Job title: Online TutorGrade: Grade 5Responsible to: Module Leader and Course LeaderDate: April 2020

Job purpose: The online tutor is vital to the daily success and vibrancy of the undergraduate and postgraduate Falmouth Flexible courses. Online tutors are a constant presence in the modules and a first academic point of contact for students supporting the learning activities as a member of the academic team. Courses are primarily asynchronous (not undertaken in real-time), online tutors log in and tend to the activities in the modules at multiple points during the day and study week (including weekends). Tutors are typically responsible for up to 30 students.

Main duties and responsibilities

The main duties and responsibilities of this role have been grouped in the following areas:

1. Learning and Teaching
2. Pastoral Care
3. Quality Assurance

Learning and Teaching

- a) To plan, host and participate in weekly synchronous (live) online conference sessions where tutors summarise a topic's key points and give students formative feedback on their learning or work.
- b) To challenge thinking, foster debate and develop the ability of students to engage in critical discourse and rational thinking through the moderation of online discussion forums.
- c) To facilitate online learning activities, provide advice and help with learning problems.
- d) To help prepare students for assessment, mark and assess work against agreed assessment criteria and learning outcomes, and provide feedback to students.
- e) To participate in University wide staff development initiatives related to learning and teaching.
- f) To develop the social learning elements of an online module.

- g) To meet regularly with module leaders to provide an overview of student progress, student learning needs and feedback on the course.

Pastoral Care

- a) To use listening, interpersonal and pastoral care skills to deal with sensitive issues concerning students and provide support.
- b) To refer students as appropriate to services providing further support.

Quality Assurance

- a) To adhere to the University's academic calendar and be available to work in alignment with the key assessment dates.
- b) To ensure adherence to, and effective operation of quality assurance and enhancement policies and procedures.
- c) To ensure delivery within Falmouth's academic framework.

General duties and responsibilities

1. To perform to high professional standards.
2. To manage independently any errors or concerns at the earliest opportunity, or notify a senior member of staff as appropriate.
3. To use initiative in order to determine priorities, work with autonomy, and work effectively with senior colleagues.
4. To be responsible for your own continuing self-development.
5. To undertake other duties not specifically stated above, which from time to time are necessary for the effective performance of the University's business without altering the nature or level of responsibility involved.
6. To work within and actively support the equality and diversity policies and practices of Falmouth University.
7. To participate in the University's Annual Performance Development Review Process.

Health and safety at Falmouth University

The University takes health and safety matters very seriously. All staff have a responsibility to take reasonable care for the health and safety of themselves and others who may be affected by their actions and omissions. They also have a duty to comply with the University arrangements for health and safety. Staff with responsibility for others must ensure the proper enactment of University policy within their areas in line with levels of responsibility set out in the University's Health and Safety Policy.

Health & safety requirements

- In relation to health and safety you must comply with all relevant legal requirements. You are specifically responsible for ensuring that:
- You comply with safe systems of work in operation within your work area.

- You work co-operatively with other staff who have responsibility for health and safety requirements.
- You report any health and safety concerns to your manager or other responsible member of staff as soon as these are identified.
- You attend training as appropriate to your role (see the relevant health and safety training grid for requirements).
- You may be required to undertake duties as a first aider (for which a separate allowance is paid).
